ABOUT

INK Toxic is an independent rapper and member of B12 Band, represented by MC. The name says something about the approach: his lyrics are deliberate, sharp, and leave a mark. He is one of the more technically focused rappers in the B12 collective — precise syllable counts, internal rhyme schemes, the kind of craft that reveals itself on second listen.

We identified INK Toxic through the same local cypher events where we found the rest of B12 Band. Each artist in the collective brings something the others don't, and INK Toxic brings a rigour with language that raises the level of every track he appears on.
